GEERS FIRST TO USE THE "BIKE."

Famous Horseman Tells How He Began to Use Pneumatic Tire Sulkies.

"Ed" Geers, the most famous driver in the world, stood in the stretch of the Whisper, Ont., track, where he races his string, and watched horses and sulkies by the dozen go past him. "What a change those sulkies have made in racing and in time," he observed. "Do you know I was the first man to drive a race in one of them, and it had a whole lot to do with my winning too. It occurred on the old Hamtramck track in the early '90s, and after that race the sulky manufacturers were not long in getting busy.
I'll assure you. It was about a mile walk from where I lived to the track near Buffalo, and I figured that a bicycle would be the right thing. I looked over the solid, cushion, and pneumatic tires, and decided on the compromise, so I bought a bicycle with cushion tires. I found out why I had not bought one with pneumatic tires, and suggested that I try this. I did, and I thought that bicycle was going to run away with me, so you can bet I had inflated tires before night."

"I began to work on a sulky with that kind of tires and was having a pair of wheels made that were about half-way between the old fashioned and those of now use. The man was slow on the job, and when I came to Detroit for the races he did not have it done. Some inventor came out to the Hamtramck track and left a sulky fitted with small wheels and pneumatic tires for Budd Doble to try.
Budd had it put at the end of his stables, and out of the way, and I discovered it.
I told him I was working a horse and asked if he care if I used it, and he said he would be glad. So I hooked the horse to it, and he went the third heat about three seconds faster than the one before. Again I tried the old sulky, and he fell back to about 2:24, and for the fifth heat I used the pneumatic, and he did it in 2:21. That horse was Excellence. I had an unfinished race to go with Hamlet George, and with Doble's permission I drove it in the new sulky, and that settled it with me, and with everybody else around there. The bicycle sulky was made that day."

Wrong Again.

A political speaker was attacking the government of the day with more venom than reason. Anson at the back of the hall at last cried out: "You're wrong sir!" A little nettled, the orator continued, without heeding. Presently, in answer to another strong assertion, came again, "You're wrong, sir!" The speaker looked angry, but continued on the warpath.

"You're wrong, sir!" again rang out.

Angry, addressing the persistent one, the orator cried, "Look here, I could tell this man something about this government which would make his hair stand on end!"

"You're wrong again, sir!" came ex-ultantly from the critic, as he stood up and removed his hat. His head was as bald as the proverbial billiard ball.—

ABOUT THE STATE

Henry S. Chapin of Stowe died Saturday night after a long illness. The funeral was held from Unity church this afternoon.

Harry H. Brown, who has been the assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Burlington for the past two years, finished his work there Saturday. He has not made any plans for the future yet.

State Chief Ranger Louis Alapa of Burlington of the Catholic Order of Portuguese received a notification from headquarters appointing Rev. C. C. Delaney of White River Junction spiritual adviser for the state of Vermont for the next two years.

Dana M. Wood, assistant engineer of the United States geological survey, is in Morrisville this week establishing a gaging station for measuring the flow of water in the Lamotte river. A standard chain gauge has been installed at the highway bridge and a staff gauge above the crest of the dam.

The hearing on Burlington's right to a public wharf has been sidetracked. The Central Vermont railroad, through its attorney, will take the condemnation proceedings to the supreme court. The case was heard last fall by the Vermont supreme court, that body deciding in favor of the city of Burlington.

During the severe storm in Addison county Friday a horse owned by Peter Shackett of Bridgeport was struck by lightning and instantly killed. Leon Shackett was mowing in a field at the time of the bolt and both he and the horses were thrown to the ground. One of the horses was found to be dead and Shackett was stunned.

The log drive which goes down the Connecticut river year has been held up for some time between Bellows Falls and Brattleboro owing to the still water above the big dam. The logmen have now got the rear of the drive below Brattleboro, owing to a strong north wind which has been driving the logland two days.

Ralph Stevens of Essex Junction, while driving up Pearl street last Saturday night, was run into by a team driven by Joe Herbert of North Williston.
Boston weapons and harness were damaged considerably. Stevens' horse ran away but was caught at the top of the hill. Officer Demag arrested Herbert on a charge of intoxication as a result of the accident.

Weather and Suicide.

The theory that depressing weather and the reflection of the bodily discomfort that it casts upon the mind is especially conducive to suicide is not borne out by the record of the last few days in Portland. Five persons have taken their own lives in this city and immediate vicinity within a week—infact, within three days—justifying the belief that the suicidal mania is not a thermal malady.

EACH GETS A FARM.

On Application to the United States Reclamation Service.

The great Agricultural development now going on in the West is attracting widespread attention, and every landowner calls on thousands of letters of inquiry concerning the opportunity for settlers. Just now unusual interest centers in the Truckee-Carson irrigation project in Nevada, where a thousand farms are offered to homeseekers by the government upon alluring possibilities.

These lands are free to every bona fide homemaker, the only expense, with the exception of the nominal filing fee, being the pro rata share of the cost of building the irrigation system. This charge amounts to $30 per acre, payable in ten annual installments, without interest.
There is no drawing or any element of chance in applying for one of these farms. It is only necessary to make a homestead entry at the land office at Carson City or at the office of the land commissioner at Fallon, Nevada.

Nature has endowed few regions more liberally with all the elements necessary to build up a great commonwealth than are found in this section. The fertile fields grow alfalfa, cereals, fruits, vegetables, in fact practically all the products of the temperate zone; the climate is dry and delightful, and the valley is singularly free from severe storms.
The sun shines almost every day in the year. The great mining regions furnish a home market and good prices for everything that can be raised, and splendid transportation facilities connect the project with the commercial centers of the country. The government irrigation system assures the farmers an abundant supply of water. The rivers offer unlimited possibilities for the development of power.

If you wish to obtain one of these farms you should write at once to the State Reclamation Service, Washington, D. C., for detailed information.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Marnett, of the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists.

The Middle Splash.

"That is impossible," said Senator Aldrich of a socialistic proposition.

He laughed.

"In its impossibility," he went on,
"it reminds me of Joe Johnson's middle splash."

"Joe Johnson, a very ignorant and pig-headed chap, presented himself at the church with his infant son for the christening. The following dialogue then took place between Johnson and the minister.

"What name do you give this child?"

"Peter Ananias Johnson."

"Ananias! I refuse to christen the child in that name. Do you know who Ananias was?"

"I don't know who he was; and what's more, I don't care."

"But Ananias was the greatest liar in all Biblical history."

"Well, that's nothing to me. My baby ain't no liar, so what's the difference? I want him christened Ananias because I like the sound of it."

"And the minister was a good as his word, and as he repeated the name, he sprinkled a little water on the infant's face."

"And I rub out that middle splash," said the father, heatedly. He rubbed his sleeve across the child's wet face and sprinkled a little more water over it.
"I rub out that middle splash, substitute this one for it, and christen him Ananias Johnson," said the father, settling it."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.
